GENOA CONFERENCE OPENS.

EQUALITY OF PARTICIPATING POWERS.

SIGNOR FACTA'S PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS.

Cannes Decisions to be Maintained.

(Reuter's Service.)

Genoa, April 10.
The Allied representatives have agreed that all the Powers shall be in an equal position at the conference, provided that the Cannes basis be loyally accepted.

Later.
An agreement as to equality of all the Powers was reached at a preliminary meeting of the Allied representatives, at which France objected to treating Russia and Germany upon the same basis as other nations.

Mr. Lloyd George replied that the conference was not held for the purpose of issuing ultimatums, and added that if Russia and Germany accepted the Cannes resolutions, "we must get to work, otherwise the conference will be useless."

The Japanese and Italian delegates concurred. France, after discussion, accepted this viewpoint.

Nervous Soviet Representatives.

Genoa, April 10.
All approaches to the Palazzo Giorgio were densely crowded hours before the opening of the conference. There was an imposing military display everywhere, including cavalry with drawn swords. The strictest precautions were taken at the entrance to the Palazzo, all tickets being closely scrutinised. The visitors' staircase, draped with crimson and decorated with camellias, was lined with troops. The ancient hall was crowded two hours before the opening. Seating was inadequate, and journalists were packed in a gallery at the back of the hall. Mrs. Lloyd George and Miss Megan Lloyd George were in the front row of visitors.

The British delegation was the first to arrive. The Soviet representatives, who were among the last, looked nervous.

The Accommodation Arrangements.

Signor Facta (the Italian Premier) formally opened the conference in the Palazzo Giorgio. The delegates of the five convening Powers sat side by side at the principal cross-table, the Italians in the centre, the British Empire delegates on the left, the French on the right, with Belgium and Japan at the ends. Members of the other States were placed in four rows at right-angles to the principal table, the Russians between the Serbians and Rumanians, with the Poles in front of the Swedes and Spaniards.

Italy to Remove Protectionist Obstacles.

Later.
Signor Facta, opening the conference, emphasised that they must work for the peace of Europe in the sincere spirit that inspired the Washington Conference. Discussions should be dominated by the principle that salvation of the community of nations was only attainable by establishing just accord between the independence, autonomy, and sovereignty of individual States. He said that Italy was ready to remove all protectionist obstacles to the development of commerce.

Mr. Lloyd George's Response.

Signor Facta, after his presidential address, affirmed that the conference was based wholly upon the Cannes resolutions.

Mr. Lloyd George pointed out that Europe needed a common effort to restore commerce and industry, which were everywhere disorganised and depressed. The first need was real peace. Discussion of currency, exchanges, transport, and credit would be unavailing unless goodwill among the nations was established. The world was one economic unit, and he therefore regretted the absence of America. He believed that with the success of the conference, America would kindly come in.

French Spokesman's Declaration.

M. Barthou declared that the world was suffering from lack of security and stability. Active faith alone could save the world. France did not pretend to exercise an hegemony; she was wholly peace-loving and could not have the criminal intention of disturbing the peace of the world. The complexity of the questions before the conference excluded simplicity of formulae. It behoved each nation to aid in reconstruction for the success of all.

Worldwide Despair If Conference Fails.

Later.
Mr. Lloyd George, in the course of the opening speech of the conference, stressed the fact that all nations were meeting upon equal terms provided that they accepted equal conditions. He proceeded to summarize the Cannes resolutions—firstly, that the nations agree not to repudiate debts notwithstanding a change of government; secondly, that no country wage war on another's institutions; thirdly, that no nation engage in aggressive operations against another's territory; fourthly, equal justice for foreigners in courts of law.

Mr. Lloyd George said that the time of actual fighting had ceased, but snarling continues, which was undignified and distracting. The conference would make a real contribution to the restoration of Europe if it could stop that snarling. He enjoined the nations not to roll boulders in front of the plough. A sense of despair would sweep over the world if the conference failed.

GERMANY'S REPLY ON REPARATIONS.

External Loan Only Means of Covering Obligations.

Berlin, April 10.
The German reply to the Reparations Commission points out that since December the purchasing power of the mark has decreased while the cost of living has steadily risen. The coming summer is contemplated with the greatest anxiety, inasmuch as Germany is faced with famine if she is unable to obtain the necessary foreign currencies for payment of imported grain. The mark will soon cease to have any value abroad if the depreciation of German currency continues.

The Note declares that it is in the interests of the entire world to prevent Germany's collapse, and reiterates the German Government's conviction that an external loan is the only means of covering its reparation obligation and stabilising exchanges. The Note considers Germany's present taxation the heaviest that can be borne by the German people, and could not agree to any control incompatible with Germany's financial sovereignty.

OPIUM-GROWING IN CHINA.

Missionary's Reply to Chinese Affairs.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, April 10.
In a special letter to the Manchester Guardian, a missionary from China, the Rev. J. S. Helps, declares that the reported statement of Mr. Chao Hsin-chu, the Chinese Charge d'Affaires, that the anti-opium meeting mentioned in messages of the 5th and 6th inst. that opium-smoking has practically disappeared from China, is incorrect. He says there has been a revival of opium planting and smoking in all but a few parts of China during the past three or four years, which had been not merely encouraged but often forced upon the people by the so-called military governors for the sake of the revenue. Those knowing China best fear that the situation in regard to opium-smoking will soon be as bad as ever.

Mr. Chao Hsin-chu spoke of the genuine efforts made by the Chinese Government to rid its people of this terrible scourge. The Government entirely sympathised with the anti-opium movement and, although opium is still grown in China, the evil is very small compared with the importation of morphia. He was sorry to have to say that most of the morphia came from those countries where the anti-opium movement is carried on with the greatest energy.

THE PROBLEM OF WAR DEBTS.

Leading Banker's Proposition.

London, April 10.
Mr. Goodenough, Chairman of Barclay's Bank, addressing the American Chamber of Commerce in London, said that the adjustment of war debts was essential to save the world from an impossible situation. He suggested that the amount payable to each debtor nation be finally decided as soon as practicable; then bonds should be created and gradually offered to the public for investment, supported by national guarantees endorsed upon the bonds, which Mr. Goodenough was convinced would find a ready market among investors all over the world.

BRITISH CHILDREN BORN ABROAD.

Consulting Dominions upon Nationality Measures.

London, April 10.
In the House of Commons, in reply to questions, Mr. Shortt (Home Secretary) said that the Bill dealing with the nationality of children of British parents born abroad had been drafted, and that endeavours are being made to obtain the concurrence of all the Dominions so that the Bill could be taken at the earliest date possible. The assent of Canada and Newfoundland had not yet been received. Representations are being made to Canada.

BRITISH EMPIRE HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP.

Beckett Awarded Contest Against Cook.

London, April 10.
At the Holland Park hall in London, the British Empire heavy-weight championship contest between George Cook and Joe Beckett, the heavy-weight champions of Australia and England respectively, resulted in Cook being disqualified in the sixth round for continually hugging.

OIL MAGNATES TO MEET.

Dutch Petroleum Chief to Visit "Socony" Director.

Amsterdam, April 10.
The Telegraph states that Sir Henry Deterding has gone to California. Well-informed people believe that he will meet Mr. Bedford, of the Standard Oil Company, with a view to co-operation by the Royal Dutch and the Standard groups.

INSURANCE FAILURE.

Heavy Liabilities and Small Assets.

London, April 10.
At a meeting of creditors of the City Equitable Assurance, Limited, the Official Receiver, who was appointed as Liquidator, said the liabilities were estimated at £1,500,000 and the assets at £29,525.

THE U.S. NAVAL BILL.

Washington, April 10.
Mr. Denby's attack on the Naval Bill was due to the fact that the measure was amended by the Naval Committee of the House of Representatives, whose further reductions in expenditure and personnel are regarded by the Administration as incompatible with the maintenance of the strength of the Navy as decided at the Washington Conference.

BRAZILIAN LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED IN NEW YORK.

New York, April 10.
The $13,000,000 8 per cent. Rio de Janeiro external loan, repayable in twenty-five years, has been largely oversubscribed.

WIRELESS OPERATORS' STRIKE.

London, April 10.
Five hundred wireless operators have now refused duty. The docks in London are picketed.

THE LATE SIR PATRICK MANSON.
formerly of Hongkong, whose death is reported by cable.

THE LATE SIR PATRICK MANSON.

Founder of the Dairy Farm.

On another page, we report the death of Sir Patrick Manson, G.C.M.G., the distinguished parasitologist, to whose enterprise the Hongkong Dairy Farm, Ice and Cold Storage Co., Ltd., really owes its inception. As a young man, Sir Patrick came to Hongkong as a practising physician and he left the Colony in 1882. When he arrived here, the Colony was a fruitful field for the study of parasitical diseases. Many of its areas were notoriously unhealthy; there was much turning over of virgin soil; the water supply was inadequate; food supplies corresponding to those at home were lacking; and the conditions of life generally were anything but healthy for the growing European population. Dr. Manson (as he then was) set to work, and the founding of the Dairy Farm was not the least fruitful product of the fertile brain which made him famous as a specialist in tropical diseases. As the handbook recently published by the Dairy Farm Co. puts it, "when he left Hongkong the Dairy Farm was a tottering baby, passing through the anxious stages of a feeble growth. It is to be regretted that the Father of the Company has never seen for himself the sturdy development of his inordinately backward child."

After his departure from Hongkong, honours were freely showered on Sir Patrick, the greatest compliment he received being his appointment as Physician and Medical Adviser to the British Colonial Office. His Limus matter honoured him with the degree of Doctor of Laws, while Oxford conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. He also became a Fellow of the Royal Society and of the Royal College of Physicians (London). In 1900, Queen Victoria conferred upon him the Companion-ship of the Order of St. Michael and St. George; in 1908, King Edward created him a Knight of the same distinguished Order, whilst in 1912, King George I. rated him to the Grand Cross (G.C.M.G.) the highest rank in the Order.

By his death, the world of scientific research is rendered the poorer by the loss of a remarkably talented man, whilst Hongkong, in whose service he spent so many fruitful years, has cause to regret the passing of one whose contribution to the health of the Colony cannot be over-stated.

LOCAL WEDDINGS.

Two Solemnised Yesterday.

Union Church was the scene of two weddings which took place within half an hour of each other yesterday morning. The Pastor of the Church, the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald, performed the ceremony in both cases, with Mr. E. J. Chapman at the organ.

Miss Elizabeth Gordon Macdonald, the younger daughter of the late Mr. James Macdonald and of Mrs. Macdonald, of Hongkong, was married to Mr. Cecil Philip Ross, of the P. & O. Company's local agency. She was attended by Miss Eleanor Robertson, as bridesmaid, being given away by her brother, Mr. J. Macdonald. The "best man" was Mr. L. J. Davies, of Messrs. Gibb, Livingston, and Company. The reception was held at the Hongkong Hotel, after which the couple left for Repulse Bay. They leave later for a trip to Japan by the St. Albans.

The second wedding was of particular interest to the American community, being that of Mr. J. Holman Scott, of the local office of the Standard Oil Company, and Miss Mildred Keeler, who arrived here during the week-end by the Bay State. The ceremony, which was a simple one, was witnessed by a large number of friends. Mr. W. B. Walker, Manager of the Standard Oil Company, gave away the bride, and the "best man" was Dr. P. R. Daugherty. A largely-attended reception was subsequently held at Kingsclere, at which the United States Consul General and Mrs. Gale were amongst the guests. The honeymoon is being spent at Nagato, F.K.; the happy couple leaving by the Bay State in the afternoon.

THE COLONY'S HEALTH.

More Plague Cases.

There were 16 further cases of plague notified yesterday, all but two of which were from the city of Victoria. Seven terminated fatally. There were also reported seven cases of small-pox, two of which were from the city, and of these five were fatal.

The other diseases notified were one of cerebro-spinal fever, fatal, and one non-fatal case each of diphtheria and enteric fever. The whole of the cases were Chinese.

CANTON SITUATION.

Is Sun Coming Back?

Our Canton correspondent reports that a rumour prevails, said to have originated from official sources, to the effect that Sun Yat-sen will return to Canton in order to deal with the present situation in Kwangtung with a strong military force, before commencing his expedition against the North. Many of the wealthy inhabitants, fearing trouble, have already sent their valuables to Hongkong and Macao and are preparing to leave the city at any moment.

Another item from our correspondent is that over seventy arrests have been made in connection with the recent murder of General Tang, but that Chan King-ming has prohibited the newspapers from publishing information on the matter without first obtaining permission from the authorities.

Our correspondent also reports that at a conference held at the Finance Department between the Seamen's Union and the bankers, the bankers' "strike" was settled. Eight conditions were agreed to, the most important of which are that the bankers agree to handle the Provincial notes at par and not to speculate in notes or coin, whilst the Seamen's Union agree to the release from police custody of the bankers arrested by them.

THE RECENT SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

Questions in the Commons.

On March 8, in the House of Commons Mr. Gresham Stewart asked the Colonial Secretary whether he had any further information as to the position of affairs in Hongkong; whether the Government of Southern China at Canton was officially recognised by the Hongkong Government, and, if so, whether their relations were friendly; and if it was not officially recognised would he consider the advisability of its recognition. Would the right hon. gentleman resist any recommendation that the British garrison in Hongkong should be reduced to half a battalion of British troops, in view of the prevailing unrest in surrounding districts.

Mr. Churchill replied that a further telegram was received from the Governor of Hongkong on Sunday (8th) afternoon. He reported that the strike had spread to bakers, butchers, domestic servants, and others. He had issued a proclamation, on Feb. 25, prohibiting persons from leaving the Colony without passes, with the object of retaining the necessary labour in the Colony, authorising compulsory labour for public services and for dealing with other matters necessary to maintain the life of the Colony. (Tropical Opposition, cheers and cries of "Order.") The Governor said that matters were proceeding reasonably well, but that the strike, owing to its magnitude, had become practically general. Domestic servants and also the staffs of many firms and some Government servants had gone out. The Engineers' Guild, including practically all mechanics, were to come out that day (9th). Printers stopped on Saturday (10th). The Governor reported with regret that a large body of strikers came into collision with Indian troops, who fired four shots, and three men were killed. There was some hope that the strike would be settled in a day or two, but statements that the strike had been settled were premature.

Mr. Churchill added that the Governor's telegram appeared to have left Hongkong about three o'clock, local time, whereas the telegrams in that connection were understood to have been sent on Sunday evening. Recognition of the Government of Southern China was not a matter for the Government of Hongkong. He could assure the hon. member that any question of reducing the number of British troops to half a battalion would not be considered by his Majesty's Government without full regard to the existing conditions in Hongkong and the neighbourhood.

Lieut. Commr. Kenworthy: Has this policy of conscription been the approval of His Majesty's Government?

Mr. Churchill: I have not sufficient information as to what is going on in Hongkong to be able to give a definite answer at present, but I should have thought, to judge from the hon. and gallant member's views in other directions, that a policy of conscription of labour would have excited his enthusiasm as much in Hongkong as in Russia. (Loud cheers.)

Colonel Wedgwood: Does the House understand that the Governor is prohibiting the workers who are on strike in Hongkong from leaving that country, and is that in order that they may be forced to take work, with the alternative of starvation?

Mr. Churchill: I have only received the telegram of which I have given a summary. I have not been consulted in any way as to the measures which have been taken by the Governor to cope with the extraordinarily difficult situation. I am awaiting full reports from the Governor before forming any judgment.

Mr. G. Stewart: In view of the very peaceful nature of the Chinese people, as I know them, will the right hon. gentleman inquire whether this intimidation is the result of Bolshevik propaganda?

Lieut. Commr. Kenworthy: If the right hon. gentleman does approve this measure of forced labour, will he send his apologies to Moscow?

Mr. Churchill: If any apology had to be rendered to Moscow we might find a very suitable Ambassador. (Cheers and laughter.)

NEW SPRING HAT

BY MARIAN HALE

A great colourful cluster—rich in tone as wild fruits and flowers—hugs the crown of this hat and extends in a graceful vine to the edge of the wide brim.

Distinction between fruit and flowers seems to have been quite forgotten by the whole millinery world.

A lovely purple pansy may be the central note of a bunch of bright small fruits. Deep pink ranunculus are poised among velvety peaches and their waxy foliage.

Colour, lots of it everywhere, seems to be the beautiful objective of the designers in their efforts on early hats.

ALLEGED FORGERY.

Grave Charge Against Ticket Seller.

Forging tickets of the Yau-mat Ferry Company was the charge against a ticket seller of that Company at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

Mr. H. L. Denys prosecuted and Mr. M. K. Lo represented the defendant.

Defendant was employed by the Yau-mat Ferry Company to sell first and second class tickets on the Yau-mat wharf at a salary of $15 a month. The evidence showed that on the 17th ult. trouble broke out among the employees of the Company and on receipt of information, the Manager and a ticket inspector decided to search defendant's office. Defendant was sitting at a table on which the ticket inspector found 20 or 40 forged tickets mixed up with genuine tickets. In the pocket of an overcoat, which defendant claimed as his, the searcher discovered about 100 "fake" tickets, the numbers on which corresponded with those on the genuine ones. Defendant was then arrested. On the 19th six ticket collectors employed by the Ferry Company absconded. The case was adjourned until next Monday, defendant's bail of $750 being increased to $1,000.

FOOTBALL.

Services v. The Rest.

The following have been chosen to play in the charity match on the Club ground at 4.30 p.m. on Easter Monday:

Rest of Colony (Whites): G. Rodger (Club); W. G. Gerrard (Club); F. Wheeler (Kowloon); Cheung Wing-shing (South China); J. Stewart (Club) and J. W. R. McPhail (Club); H. McTavish (Club) (Capt.); A. Forsyth (Club); S. D. Begg (Club); Ip Kau (South China) and Lau Tak-cheong (South China).

The Services (Blues): Mitch (Tamar); Walker (R.G.A.) and Claves (Curlew); Pascoe (R.G.A.); Hudson (Tamar) and Lt. H. R. Donovan (R.G.A.) (Capt.); Hill (Tamar); Dural (Ambrose); Lt. G. R. Jones (King's); Cook (Curlew) and Lamb (Curlew).

Reserves: Wilson (Curlew), McHugh (R.G.A.) and Burnett (King's).

Colonel J. Ward: Do I understand that the right hon. gentleman is going to leave it entirely, as I think he ought, to the local people to decide how best to preserve their position and order in the Colony which they govern?

Mr. Churchill: Naturally you leave the man on the spot to deal with the emergency, but that will not in any way abrogate the critical and deciding function of the Imperial Government.

THE GEDDES PROPOSALS.

Government Decisions.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer last month explained what action the Government proposed to take on the reports of the Geddes Committee. His speech had more matter in it than most Budget speeches, and it was quite the best thing that one has heard from Sir Robert Horne since he became Chancellor. It was lucid, candid, and in its opening passages relieved by touches of humour.

The House was grateful for the statement, and is now looking forward to an admirable speech on the Budget a month hence. One is the more pleased with the success of to-day because latterly Sir Robert had seemed to lose some of his hold over the House, and while this House is admittedly on its deathbed, it has still some assets to dispose of.

SAVING PAST AND PRESENT.
The substance of Sir Robert Horne's speech is best conveyed in three propositions. It has saved, it is saving, it will save more.

First, as to past savings. The Chancellor gave these figures for the supply and appropriation services:

1918-19	£2,965,000,000
1919-20	£1,690,000,000
1920-21	£1,015,000,000
1921-22	£825,000,000

(And Geddes Committee appointed.)

He had a dig at Mr. Asquith for describing Sir Eric Geddes as a "Landru" amongst the bluebeards, and at the young member of the House for thinking that no economy could come out of a committee of septuagenarians. True, the nearer you get to the bone the harder it is to carve, but the Geddes Committee had cut to some purpose, namely, £85,000,000.

The second proposition is that the Government is saving. Of the £85,000,000 for the current year, £66,000,000 is for supply services, with which alone the Geddes Committee had to deal. Subtract the £86,000,000, of the Geddes reports from this £66,000,000, and you get £579,000,000. But in fact the Supply Estimate for the coming year will be £95,000,000 more.

That is the measure of the Government's contribution to economy independent of anything the Geddes Committee recommended. That is a considerable sum, and we must not talk as though Sir Eric Geddes was the only economist.

SPECIFIED AND NOT SPECIFIED.
It is the more considerable in view of the fact that some of the Geddes recommendations of economy have been rejected.

These Geddes recommendations are of two kinds—specified and unspecified. They are specified economies when the Committee says: "Do so-and-so, and you will save so much." They are unspecified when the Committee says: "There ought to be a saving of so much," without saying exactly how.

Specified economies recommended amount to £71,000,000; unspecified amount to £15,000,000. Actual savings on the expenditure examined by the Committee, which the Government will recommend amount to £64,000,000, which is £7,000,000 below the specified economies recommended by the Committee.

It is, in fact, rather more for this £64,000,000 includes a sum of £11,000,000 saved at Washington, which was outside the Geddes Report. Therefore, the net deficiency on the Geddes standard of economy is £18,000,000.

Of this £18,000,000, 12 millions are on account of economies in education proposed by the Committee and rejected by the Government. The Government will not consent to reduction of teachers' salaries, but it agrees to a contribution by teachers of 5 per cent. of their salaries to their superannuation fund. It won't exclude children under six from school, though it doesn't mind the size of classes being increased where practicable. Thus Mr. Fisher has saved two out of every three millions on which the Committee wanted to lay its hands. The Liberal and Labour benches were pleased.

NAVY REDUCTIONS.
As for the Navy Estimates, the Government propose to save £21,000,000, which is the same sum as that recommended by the Geddes Committee. But the Government's £21,000,000 included the £11,000,000 saved by Washington, whereas the Committee's did not. But of the Geddes millions 7 were unspecified, so that the real shortage on the Geddes standard is 4 millions, the difference between 14 and 10. Thus:—

	Geddes.	Govt.
Savings on Navy	£21,000,000	£21,000,000
Less unspecified	7,000,000	—
Less amount saved at Washington	—	11,000,000
Net	£14,000,000	£10,000,000

That gives the measure of the advantage of the Admiralty's argument. The difference to be explained by the fact that it is impossible to apply the same standard of reduction of personnel to big and little ships. We have got the personnel down to 98,000, compared with 150,000 before the war, and 88,000 recommended by the Geddes Committee.

SAVING ON ARMY.
In the Army the savings accepted by the Government are £17,000,000, or £1,500,000 more than specified economies of the Geddes Committee.

There will be a reduction of 24 battalions of the line, five cavalry regiments, and 40 per cent. off artillery. The Expeditionary Force, which was six divisions strong before the war, will now be only two, immediately, though others can be added later.

So Sir Robert Horne went through each of the recommendations of the Geddes Report. One cannot follow him in all the details, but the women police are to go, amid groans from Lady Astor; the Government concurs with the proposals of the Committee on the sale of houses; consent to an increased contribution of 1/6d. on health insurance; and is looking forward to a large re-organisation of Government Departments and a redistribution of their functions.

Sir Robert Horne closed on a note of optimism. Prospects of trade are improving, and we are in a better position to take advantage of it than any other country.

JAPAN-AUSTRALIAN SERVICES.

The Japanese lines to Australia have not been active on the outward voyages, but have brought back large cargoes of wool and wheat, especially the latter, which has been purchased by such big concerns as Messrs. Suzuki and Mitsui, on account of its being cheaper in price and better in quality than Canadian and American. In view of the increase of cargo the N.Y.K. has put two additional steamers, the Yamagata and Genchu, on the line. The Yamagata Steamship and Mining Company has opened a line between Dairen and Australia, taking coal from Dairen to be discharged at Maffie on the outward voyage and carrying wheat from Australia on the return.

Harbour Accommodation.

An eminent shipbuilding authority at Home, commenting some time ago on the fact that there were no vessels under construction of the size of the big trans-Atlantic liners, expressed the opinion that while it is unlikely that the keel of any record-breaking vessel as regards pace in size and speed. Granting, then, that it is trade itself which will set the limit to the economical size of vessels, and that trade between all countries is rapidly increasing, the size of steamships will increase correspondingly. The prospective increase of China's ocean trade will probably be greater than any that has yet been seen and with this future growth in mind, it may be assumed that the 22,000 tons liner Empress of Canada which the C.P.S.S. are to place in trans-Pacific service does not mean the limit to which the size of individual steamers trading to Shanghai will expand.

Although the present trend in shipbuilding is more in the nature of economic efficiency rather than size, it is significant that on December 31 last there were under construction in United Kingdom yards one vessel of nearly 30,000 tons, four between 20,000 and 25,000 tons and twenty-two between 15,000 and 20,000 tons. Many of these vessels will have a draft of more than thirty feet, and though so far as we can ascertain none of them is definitely destined for service to the Far East, there is a distinct possibility that if and when the excellent scheme for the development of Shanghai's harbour and its approaches is consummated, we shall see actually in the harbour of Shanghai vessels as large as on the Pacific and on the routes between Great Britain and Australia. Until trade developed such ships could not be employed. The North Atlantic, being the greatest highway of travel in the world, and being, in addition, so narrow that very large bunker supplies need not be carried, has always set the pace in size and speed. Granting, then, that it is trade itself which will set the limit to the economical size of vessels, and that trade between all countries is rapidly increasing, the size of steamships will increase correspondingly. The prospective increase of China's ocean trade will probably be greater than any that has yet been seen and with this future growth in mind, it may be assumed that the 22,000 tons liner Empress of Canada which the C.P.S.S. are to place in trans-Pacific service does not mean the limit to which the size of individual steamers trading to Shanghai will expand.

Many of these vessels will have a draft of more than thirty feet, and though so far as we can ascertain none of them is definitely destined for service to the Far East, there is a distinct possibility that if and when the excellent scheme for the development of Shanghai's harbour and its approaches is consummated, we shall see actually in the harbour of Shanghai vessels as large as if not larger than, the Empress of Canada. It is interesting to note, in passing, that among the largest merchant vessels which have visited Woosung are the American s. Minnesota, 20,700 tons gross, draft 31 feet, and the M. M. s. Sobin, 20,000 tons, with a draft of 33.9 feet.

So far as Shanghai itself is concerned, it has taken all steps to grasp by harbour development, the opportunity of remaining the trading centre of China; and ratification by Peking of the recommendations made by the Committee of Consulting Engineers is all that is now needed to ensure Shanghai retaining its present position as China's greatest port and one of the most important in the world.—Shipping and Engineering.

WORLD-WIDE SPORT.

As the result of severe frost and continuous abandonment of League football matches, many Northern Union clubs in Yorkshire report heavy financial losses. Four clubs state that they have each sustained a loss of £9,000 as the result of same, and in addition they are behind in their programmes.

Legacies, which will probably amount to £5,000, have been left to the National Rifle Association. The report states that the late Vice-Admiral George Northland, one of the oldest life members, has bequeathed half the residue of his estate to the Association, and it is anticipated that this will amount to nearly £25,000.

HONGKONG, 11th April, 1922.

DELETE THE "EX."

"He gives twice who gives quickly." These words naturally suggest themselves in thinking of the generosity of Sir Paul Chater in agreeing to devote a sum of $50,000 for the benefit of ex-Service men. No sooner had the Prince of Wales indicated his preference for some useful project
being carried out in his name, instead of a statue being erected in his honour, than Sir Paul at once intimated that he would be happy to fulfil the royal wish. And the very next day he disclosed his intention of subscribing the sum named. No reader's response could be imagined.

If it is not too presumptuous
on our part, however, and provided H.R.H. did not specifically indicate any particular wish, we should like to make the suggestion that whatever is done with Sir Paul's liberal donation the claims of our soldiers and sailors be not overlooked. Presuming the intention is to erect a clubhouse of some kind, let us not forget that the life of any building put up would exceed the residence in this Colony of
by far the greater majority of ex-Service men now here.
Twenty years hence, there may not be half a dozen civilians in Hongkong who served in the war. What, in such circumstances, would then become of any building erected for ex-Service men? There is one other point. The Prince's desire was obviously one to help others.
Can it be said that the ex-

Service men of this Colony really need help? The greater number of them are in good billetts and have no difficulty in getting all the recreation or amusement they desire. Not so with our soldiers and sailors.
They, unhappily, have, in spending money, to count in cents
where most of the civilian population reckon in five-dollar bills.
And it is a notorious fact that they are ill-provided for in the matter of Club accommodation.

Our gallant soldiers and sailors
we shall always have with us,
even when there are no longer
any ex-Service men in Hongkong.
A clubhouse or institute for them would be of permanent use. And, incidentally, a couple of rooms or so in such a building to serve as the ex-Service men's headquarters would conduce to the spirit of camaraderie which we all want to see developed between Army, Navy and Civilians. We all know the Prince's high regard for the Army and Navy. Why not therefore let what is to be done in some way benefit our Tommyes and bluejackets? In putting forward these suggestions, we have not the least desire to belittle the claims of our ex-Service men to a place where they can foregather and maintain the link forged on the battlefields. Their wish ought to be gratified. But if the Prince did not specifically have the ex-Service men in mind, we cannot help feeling that first consideration should be given to men of the Army and Navy.

The Pavilion.

So the Prince's Pavilion is soon to be a thing of the past. There will be general regret felt at the announcement which we made yesterday to this effect. The possibilities of the place were strikingly demonstrated at the ball last Friday, when everyone was loud in praise of what is a truly magnificent piece of work.
Considering the huge amount of public money spent on the structure, it does seem a thousand pities that it should be crapped
after so little use has been made of it. The trouble is, of course, that the site on which it stands is required for the much-overdue war memorial, though now that we have waited so long for this precious cenotaph we cannot see that a little more delay would greatly matter. We should very much like to have seen the Pavilion
used as a temporary city hall and theatre so as to make possible the reconstruction of the present set of buildings masquarading under that title, and provided a guarantee of the stability of the new building were forthcoming from some expert source, we should even now be glad to hear that the Government is prepared to reconsider its decision with such a possibility in view. Otherwise, we suppose there is nothing for it but to be grateful that the Prince was entertained in such a magnificent hall, to acquiesce in its demolition, and to foot the bill as cheerfully as we are able.

Ireland Again.

A few months ago there was reasonable ground for believing that Ireland's troubles, or at least the worst of them, had come to an end. As the result of protracted negotiations, Sinn Feiners hitherto so uncompromising as Messrs. Griffith and Michael Collins had it borne upon them that the British Government's proposals were really in their country's best interests. Countless numbers of Irishmen
acclaimed the decisions which it was fondly hoped would bury the hatchet after centuries of strife.
Yet here we find Ireland practically back to the old, wretched tradition of discord, only that now it is Sinn Feiner against Sinn Feiner. Mr. Collins has just felt compelled to declare that unless there is an immediate change in the attitude of the De Valeraites, "only a miracle can avert civil war." This fratricidal struggle is clearly being precipitated by the irreconcilables, who have flagrantly broken the truce that was to be observed
pending the General Election.
To all appearances the settlement hangs in the balance. It rests with Irishmen themselves to decide their country's fate.

Wales:—"I am desired by the Sentence of one month's hard labour was passed by Mr. J. R.

Wood this morning on a Chinese for the theft of a banquet table cloth. The prisoner was caught with the goods by a detective as he entered a pawnshop, and the theft was traced to its source.
It appears that during the recent removal of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce from Des Vieux
Road to 64 Connaught Road Central, the chance was given to the culprit to carry out the theft.

Captain Robin H. Campbell,

in a number of finger prints
which he said had been taken on three previous convictions against defendant. These corresponded with those taken in the present case. The Magistrate:
—"I have your finger prints here."
—Defendant:—"They are not my finger prints, but those of my desperate chance that the defendant took to clear himself.

But the excuse was not accepted,
his Worship passing sentence of GOVERNMENT HOUSE COMEDY.

Sequel to a Small Fire.

An unpopular Chinese police sergeant, a truculent lukong, a peace-loving house coolie and a bulky fire dispatch box figured in a comical affair which occurred at Government House during the week-end. The lukong is alleged to have struck the sergeant when the latter called him up before his superior officers for disobedience of an order, and a charge of assault was accordingly
brought in Mr. R. E. Lindsell's
Court this morning.

This is the story as told by the aggravated sergeant.—On Saturday night, at about 9.40, a slight outbreak of fire occurred in the chimney of one of the Government House buildings, in consequence of which the fire dispatch box had to be brought into requisition. To move the bulky dispatch box back to its former position after the fire had been extinguished was a job which required the services of at least three men. The sergeant found that he could not do the work
on his own, so he went in search of the four or five lukongs who are usually attached for duties about the grounds but they were not to be found. When at last he did succeed in getting hold of one of them it was in somewhat unusual circumstances. In one room in the servants' quarters
the man was engaged in an exciting game of pin-ku with the servants. He was, in fact,
so much engrossed in it that he paid but scant attention to his superior officer when the latter asked him to come out and help
in pushing back the fire dispatch
box. "I am not on duty," the lukong replied. "What made you think that I would do such work?" All persuasions being futile, the sergeant made a sudden grab at the cards and stakes and intimated that he would report
the matter to the Inspector. "You are very brave to decide on such a thing," the lukong remarked, "I will kill you if you do it."

The Sergeant Bolted.

Undaunted by this threat, the Sergeant on Monday morning went up to the Police Station and reported the matter in the usual way—he filled in the defaulter's sheet and submitted it to the Inspector. Whilst the misdeed of the lukong was being registered, the sergeant returned to Government House and formally handed to the culprit a chit written in Chinese characters apprising him
of this fact. "You dare to report
me! I'll show you!" the lukong shouted, and with these words
he set upon the unfortunate sergeant with such effect that in desperation the latter had to take to his heels. It was the sergeant's intention to run to Mr. Deacon, or some other official of Government House, for succour, but before he could do so the lukong
had overtaken him, and, catching him by the throat, he threw him on the ground. Whilst lying in a dazed condition on the ground
with the fingers of his adversary still clutched about his throat, he heard a voice which he recognized as that of another lukong, coming from a dark corner, saying:—"Kill him! Kill him!"

The Peace-Loving Coolie.

Then it was that the aged house-coolie Ah Why came on to the scene. Ah Why loved peace.
He told them not to fight, quite overlooking the fact that it was the lukong who was doing all the fighting. The sergeant and the lukong separated, but the sergeant repaired to his room with the intention of getting his whistle and blowing on it. But he found that it had mysteriously disappeared,
together with his tunic.

At the conclusion of this evidence, the Magistrate remarked to the witness:—"You do not appear to be popular with your men?"
The Sergeant:—"That may be because I threatened to put the lukong on the defaulter's report."
Why did you not suppress the gambling first, before you asked for his assistance?—I did not know that a game was in progress until I came into the room after calling for him outside the door.

The evidence of other witnesses was then called and His Worship later remanded the case.

CHINESE SOLDIERS AND THE RAILWAYS.

The Chinese Ministry of War has informed the Ministry of Communications that, in compliance with the latter's request,
a general order has been circulated forbidding the issue of military passes for transportation by rail,
and the transference of military tickets to civilians.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT.

Mrs. Arratoon Seth.

One of Hongkong's oldest residents, Mrs. Arratoon Seth, of 2, Peak Road, passed away in the early hours of this morning.

Mrs. Seth was born in Singapore, some seventy years ago, but most of her life has been spent in Hongkong. She appeared to be in her usual state of health up to a week or so ago, when she began to complain of difficulty in breathing. About half-past one this morning a bad attack came on.
Dr. Black was called, but nothing could be done to save her and the end came at about two o'clock.
The deceased lady was the widow of the late Mr. Arratoon Seth, formerly Registrar of the Supreme Court, Hongkong, who died in England last year. She leaves three sons, Mr. S. A. Seth, of Shanghai, Mr. Harold Seth, of Hongkong, and Mr. J. Hennessy Seth, a partner in the firm of Messrs. H. Percy Smith, Seth
and Fleming.

The funeral takes place this afternoon passing the Monument
at five o'clock.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

The marriage of the King's daughter has set a Home paper to searching history for Royal ladies bearing that name. Mary is a name which has been given to no fewer than 17 daughters
among 12 monarchs of England.
The first nine so-named were Mary and nothing else. George
III. and Queen Victoria had each three daughters upon whom the name was bestowed, while two of Edward VII.'s three daughters were likewise Mary. King George's only daughter is the only one of those who, possessing the name in supplementary order,
has chosen to give it precedence over the others. In this way she has followed her Royal mother, both being named Victoria first and Mary as a "follow" by Queen Victoria's wish. It took a long time to establish the name in the Royal line of this country, for between the first Princess Mary and the second there is a gap of full 360 years, and only eight times does it occur in twice 300 years.

Lord Edward Fitzgerald, who now becomes Duke of Leinster,
is head of a very ancient family.
The Fitzgeralds are descended
from Dominus Cito, or Otho, came to England from Florence in 1057. In former times, they were a Catholic family, and introduced the Dominican and Franciscan Orders into Ireland.
In the reign of Henry VIII., Thomas, Earl of Kildare was hung, drawn and quartered, while another Earl of Kildare, known as the "Wizard Earl," only escaped death by flight. The new Duke's aunts, Ladies Eva, Mabel and Nesta, live a very quiet life
at Kikea, and though the family is now Protestant it is highly respected in Ireland. With Carton, the family seat in Co.
Kildare, the Duke of Leinster comes into a wonderful collection of old furniture and pictures. The latter include many generations of Fitzgeralds, notably a portrait by Hughes of his lovely mother,
Hermione, Duchess of Leinster,
and one of the ill-fated patriot Lord Edward Fitzgerald, after whom the new Duke is named.
There is (or was) a collection of weapons in what is called the "Shell House"—a quiet and glorified summer-house—in the grounds, said to be entirely the work of a Duchess of Leinster, who put in the shells daily until
the house itself was complete.

Despite the comparatively brief
recess, an unusually large number of new peers took their seats
at the opening of Parliament.
In the first place there are the four barons created at the opening of the year, very effectively
disguised as Lords Barby Manton, Glendyne and Woolavington. Then three Scottish Representative Peers have been elected to fill vacancies—the Earl of Airlie, the Earl of Leven and Melville, Lord Belhaven and Stanton. Another four peers will enter the House of Lords on succeeding to titles, among them being the Earl of Halsbury and Lord Napier of Magdala. The other House had only three fresh arrivals to welcome.

CHARITY BALL.

At Prince's Pavilion.

As has been previously announced, the officers and men of the China submarine flotilla are organising a charity ball, to be held in the Prince's Pavilion on Tuesday next, with the object of raising funds for the support of the wives, children and other dependents of the men lost in the recent disaster to Submarine H.42.

The band of the Hawkins and the jazz band of the Cairo will be in attendance, and dancing will take place from 9.15 p.m. to 1.15 a.m. Tickets are $2 each.

CHINESE ATHLETICS.

A Local Campaign.

The Assistant Hon. Secretary of the South China Athletic Association informs us that the fifth annual membership campaign of the Association closed on the 31st instant, with the following result:—Memberships, 1,000; subscriptions, $11,418.50. In the latter amount is included a subscription of $2,000 generously given by Mr. H. M. H. Nonsanee as well as a sum of $100 from the Asiatic Petroleum Co. (S.C.) Ltd.

The campaign was in every way a success and will enable the Association to carry on its good work of improving athletics amongst the Chinese community. It is interesting to note that the Association has no fewer than eleven football teams, although only three have entered the Football League, and that its members also excel in tennis, baseball, basketball, volleyball, etc.

CHINA'S PREMIER.

An Acting Appointment.

A Peking telegram states that the President has ordered Chow Tsz-chai to act as Premier in place of Yen Wai-ching.

Liang Shih-yi's resignation is expected to be tendered in a few days.

WILHELM SAYS HE IS HARD UP.

Scarcely Enough for the "Necessaries of Life."

The ex-Kaiser Wilhelm mournfully announced that he has scarcely enough money to obtain the ordinary necessities of life.

The North Berlin branch of the Society of German War Widows, Orphans and Disabled Soldiers recently wrote to the exile of Doorn, pointing out its serious financial position, and asking for a subscription towards a dinner "for children of the very poorest war victims."

In reply the following was received from Doorn:—

"His Majesty the Kaiser has learned with regret of the financial straits into which the war widows, orphans, and disabled have fallen. Money at his Majesty's command for subscriptions to charities, however, has long been exhausted.

"Economic and financial conditions prevailing at present are simply paralyzing. Only 14 Dutch florins are received in exchange for every 100 marks, and owing to the high prices ruling in Holland the necessities of life can scarcely be obtained.

"By his Majesty's command, a picture postcard of his Majesty is enclosed.

MONEY FOR TELEGRAMS.

Wilhelm has already received nearly a hundred million marks from Germany, besides much valuable property, including gold and silver plate by the hundreds of pieces. He had money to buy a big residence, and he runs an expensive household.

The Price of Beer.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Baldwin, answering Commander Kenworthy, said no representations as to the very high prices of beer had been received by the Board of Trade. He had no statistics showing the existence of profiteering in this branch of industry, or in the distribution of beer.

NO PROFITEERING IN BUILDING MATERIALS.

Mr. Baldwin, replying to Mr. Malone, said he was aware of the existence of trade combinations of various kinds, in respect of building materials, but neither the Sub-Committee on Building Materials appointed under the Profiteering Acts, nor the Special Committee appointed by the Minister of Health had found that any such combinations had acted unfairly.

THE ANGLO-FRENCH PACT.

Mr. Lloyd George informed Captain Wedgwood Benn that Parliament would have an opportunity of discussing the terms of Anglo-French pact before any obligations are incurred in connection with it.

GAS POISONING.

A question having arisen as to whether an interrogatory, with reference to gas poisoning, addressed to the Prime Minister, should not rightly have been put to the Ministry of Health, the Speaker stated that that was so.

Sir Wm. Davidson, who put the question, said he had always understood that questions having reference to the introduction of legislation, should be addressed to the Prime Minister.

Mr. Baldwin—I am responsible for gas. (Loud laughter.)

"CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS." Colonel Hurst asked the Prime Minister whether he would now carry out the undertaking given last sessions to have an inquiry whether or not it is desirable in the public interest to retain alleged conscientious objectors in the employ of the State while the Service men are being dismissed.

Mr. Lloyd George said it was proposed to set up a Select Committee to inquire into this matter.

Mr. Lloyd George, answering Colonel Burn, said the proposals of the Government in regard to the reform of the House of Lords, would be presented, in the first instance in the form of resolutions in the House of Lords.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR IRISH QUESTIONS. Mr. Churchill, replying to Commander Kenworthy, said it had been arranged that he should be responsible to the House on behalf of the Prime Minister so far as questions of general policy in regard to Ireland were concerned, including the relations with the Provisional Government.

So far as the Northern Irish Government was concerned, the Home Secretary would be responsible.

Dealing with the shooting and wounding of Ulster constables on Saturday, Mr. Churchill said this had greatly aggravated the situation, and the Government had telegraphed in strong terms urging the Provisional Government to do all in their power to arrest the persons concerned and prevent a repetition of the occurrence.

Mr. Churchill, continuing, said the Government had sent a telegram to Sir James Craig assuring him that the troops in Ulster would be reinforced to any extent necessary. The Provisional Government had expressed a desire for a meeting between representatives of the two Governments, but so far, in the present state of tension, it had not been possible to arrange a meeting.

GENOA.

The Prime Minister, in reply to Commander Kenworthy, said the British Dominions had been invited to the Genoa Conference. There had been no postponement of the Conference.

CATTLE EMBARGO. Mr. W. Shaw asked whether the embargo which applies to cattle from Canada would also apply to cattle from the Irish Free State.

Mr. Lloyd George said he had no reason to think a restrictions referred to would apply to cattle brought from the Free State. The question whether legislation was necessary to remove any doubts on this point was under consideration.

They would include reform of the House of Lords as well as an adjustment of differences between two houses.

WOMEN WORKERS IN CHINA.

Article by A Lady Journalist.

"Women Workers in China" is the title of an instructive article in Outward Bound by Miss Zung we Tsung, a Chinese lady, who graduated from the McTearie Missionary School for Girls in Shanghai. After a successful course through colleges for women in the U.S.A., she started a distinguished career on the staff of the Sun Pao at Shanghai. Miss Zung we Tsung writes:—

Not until a very recent date was there much to be said about the Women Movement in China, despite the fact that women have always been co-workers of men in their modest and quiet ways. Restricted by time-honoured customs women have for centuries been secluded in their homes, assuming a seemingly non-aggressive attitude towards all-round self-expression. That was not without reason, however. Before having any contact with the Western civilisation men as well as women found satisfaction in what China could offer—literature, art, philosophy, and what not.

With the introduction of the democratic principles based on Christianity the Chinese mind underwent a great change. People soon realised that in order to keep pace with the progress of the world her women must be given an opportunity. To attain this the first thing was to do away with the visible bondage that fettered women physically—the ridiculous custom of foot-binding. At the same time emphasis was put on the emancipation of women's mind by opening schools for girls. The pioneer work toward female education was nobly done by the missionaries.

The education of women, Miss Tsung admits, is still backward, and there are many illiterate among her sisters. Owing to this, there is little variety in the occupations usually followed. Of these domestic service and in some cases factory work draw the most recruits. After agriculture factory conditions are not ideal but Miss Tsung realises that the women's movement in China has made long strides in a short time, and believes in its future.

A distinct forward step was the sending of a delegate to the Second International Congress of Women Workers held in Geneva last October, the writer of the article, Miss Zung we Tsung herself being the delegate.

THE "MERLIN."

The old sloop Merlin, which was converted into a surveying ship some years ago and in that capacity has done duty on the East Indies, Africa and China Stations, is to be relieved at an early date by the survey ship Triguise. That ship is now being refitted for her new duties in Devonport Dockyard. She is a sloop of light draught, and when specially fitted out will suit the work of the Far Eastern seas excellently.

The Merlin has done good service since she was launched and completed for sea in 1902. She did duty on the East Indies Station, Cape Station and China Station as a sloop, and was converted into a surveying ship a short time prior to the opening of the late war. She carries an armament of a couple of pounders and two machine guns for protection duty. With a displacement of 1,070 tons, and engines of 1,400 horse power her best speed was 13.2 knots, but in recent years she was not able to approach this speed.

THIS AMERICAN MOTHER

Testifies That Baby's Own Tablets Do All That is Claimed for Them and More.

Tens of thousands of mothers sleep soundly at night throughout the length and breadth of America, knowing that with Baby's Own Tablets in the house their little ones are safeguarded in case of sudden sickness.

Writes one of these American mothers, Mrs. A. H. Waite, of 1207 Fremont Avenue, North Minneapolis:—"I wish every mother knew how good Baby's Own Tablets are, then there would be fewer sick children. My last baby was sickly from birth and the benefit that the Tablets have afforded is simply wonderful. They do all that is claimed for them and more. I would not be without them for anything."

Every careful parent will insist that medicine given to children should be absolutely pure, safe, gentle and free from narcotic drugs. Baby's Own Tablets exactly answer this description. They quickly reduce fever, dispel colic and constipation, check diarrhoea, relieve cramp, allay teething pains, cure indigestion, expel worms, quiet the nerves and bring restful, health-giving sleep in a perfectly natural way. Of druggists, or post at 60 cents per vial direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

SHIPPING NEWS.

JAPANESE LINE TO SAIGON.

The O.S.K. has decided to send the vessels on their South American line to Saigon, the first being the Hamburg Maru, which will sail on the 29th instant. Up to now there has been no direct connection between Japan and Saigon except by the M.M. vessels.

14,000-TON MOTOR SHIPS.

Three oil-engined vessels, each of 14,000 tons, were completed on the Clyde in February. According to the Motor Ship they are the largest and highest-powered motor ships afloat. A number of similar vessels will be built. In this development British ship-builders easily lead the way. Since the beginning of the year motor ships totalling 90,000 tons have been completed, representing a much larger output than during the corresponding period a year ago.

HAICHOW PORT.

Haichow is a city on the coast in the hilly district of northern Kiangsu. In the spring of 1921, the Military and Civil Governors of that province on behalf of the people of Kiangsu, petitioned the Government to open up the city as a commercial port. On April 13th, of the same year a Presidential Mandate was issued appointing Mr. Tuan Shu-yun, former Civil Governor of Hupeh and a native of Kiangsu, Director of the proposed Haichow Port. Haichow is the designated terminal of the Lung-Chih-Yu-Hai Railway, which runs from Lan-chow in Kansu, to Haichow on the coast. The Belgian Superintendent of this railway did a great deal of valuable work in making careful soundings over the entire section where the proposed port is to be located. He installed wind gauges and tide gauges, and charted the coast and Syliciao Island. The place is ideal for a port, with a large mountainous island about three miles long, about two and a half miles from the shore, running parallel to the coast. The harbour is shallow, but it can be made available for deep draught vessels by dredging. Land at Haichow was originally worth only about $10.00 per mow, but when it became known last spring that a plan was on foot for the opening of a port, the price rose from $30. to $40. per mow. There is sulphur mine in the district, operated by the Japanese, who also tried to raise capital for the operation of a recently discovered manganese mine. The people of the district are strongly against selling the land to foreigners.

RAISING SUNKEN SHIPS.

The following is the official description of a recent invention for raising sunken ships:—A pontoon for raising sunken ships is provided with mechanism for equalizing the load on the lifting cables, comprising capstans, mounted on a table sliding in channels in the upper part of the pontoon, and with an anchor consisting of a chamber carried by a post sliding in a well. The pontoon floats horizontally when empty, and is submerged by opening the valve and operating a pump to fill the pontoon, which is thus caused to sink, and the anchor as it fills causes the post to slide outwardly and downwardly so that the pontoon tilts and sinks still further, and assumes a vertical position when about half full with the anchor resting on the sea bottom. The entry of water is stopped when the working deck is still above water level. The lifting cables which have previously been positioned under the vessel are passed through guides, located below the centre of buoyancy of the pontoon, and through guides into the upper chamber, and temporarily secured by pins. Each cable is then hauled tight in turn by connecting it temporarily by means of clamps to one of the jack-chains carried by the capstans, and secured again by the pin while the other cables are tightened. During this operation the sliding table is locked in its central position by pins inserted in holes in the deck. The cables are then secured to the ends of the jack-chain and the pins removed. The anchor is emptied of water by admitting compressed air from a reservoir through the pipe, and then raised by means of a winch. Water is now discharged from the pontoon by means of a pump mounted in a water-tight chamber sliding on guides and suspended by a cable from a winch raising the ship.

JAPANESE UNIVERSITIES.

Practical Type Needed.

In the Japanese Diet, Mr. Odagiri Bantaro (Seiyukai) supporting the Supplementary Budget, said that the extension of higher educational institutions at a time when the Washington Conference ushered in an era of cultural enterprise and economic undertakings was in accord with the requirements of the times. It was proposed firstly, that the Tokyo Higher Technical School, the Osaka Higher Technical School and the Kobe Higher Commercial School should be reorganised as a Tokyo Technical University, Osaka Techni University and Kobe Commercial University respectively; secondly, that the Post-graduate Courses of the Tokyo Higher Normal School and the Hiroshima Higher Normal School should be reorganised as a Tokyo Literature and Science University and a Hiroshima Literature and Science University; thirdly, that Post-graduate Courses should be created in the special industrial schools; fourthly, that the Tokyo Foreign Language School curriculum should be extended by one year; fifthly, that dental schools should be established; and lastly, that competent professors and teachers for these institutions should be trained.

The Government gave two reasons for its proposal to establish the Technical and Commercial Universities. One reason was that university capacity must be enlarged, and the other reason was that in the new universities particular importance was attached to the practical application of science. As all were aware, some time ago the Government increased the number of high schools to twenty-five, and when the high schools were increased in this way it was natural that the number of universities should accordingly be increased. There was a tendency to increase the number of students who made a specialty of industrial, commercial and economic subjects, and this was the reason why the Government proposed to create Technical and Commercial Universities. This was, in the opinion of Mr. Odagiri, a very proper step for the Government to take. Referring to the proposed establishment of the Universities of Literature and Science, Mr. Odagiri said that, as was well known, the supply of middle school teachers came mainly from the higher normal schools. In the present circumstances, there was an increasing demand for teachers of more profound knowledge and higher scholastic attainments, and it was to be hoped that the Universities of Literature and Science, the establishment of which was now proposed, would supply such teachers.

THE POOR EMPEROR.

The Shanghai Journal of Commerce announces that the ex-Manchu Emperor, Hsuan Tung, not having enough money for his forthcoming marriage, has made an offer to the Japanese Minister, which has been accepted, for the sale of the famous Chinese historical books called the "Sze Fu Chuan Hsu" for $1,200,000.
